

GRACE KINLEY TROPHY

In 1966, Grace Kinley as Zone Chairperson for the South Shore, proposed a trophy for ladies' play between the South Shore Clubs. The low net scores were tabulated at the end of the golf season and the trophy was awarded to the Club with the four lowest at the last field day.

The trophy tournament has since been changed to a one day event open to all women club members. The popularity of the trophy enables ladies to be a winner even those with higher handicaps. Grace Kinley is pleased that this format has promoted and encouraged play, especially to those who might be beginners or not routinely in the winner's circle.
