

2020 Club Championship Results

The weekend of August 7th we held our annual Club Championship, there were 104 members that teed off and they couldn't have asked for better course conditions or weather.

On the Women's side, Allison Chandler won the Women's overall title with a stellar 147 over the weekend. Allison had an excellent summer on the golf course as she captured the Nova Scotia Women's Amateur along with this week-ends Club Championship. Barb Arsenault won the Women's Senior with some steady play while Linda Weckman captured the Women's Masters title.

Storme McNeil and Adrian Nunn won our Junior Championships. Storme is quickly becoming the most established golfer in her family, while Adrian won his second junior championship and will be someone contending for the Men's title soon.

Storme's father Ross McNeil won the Senior Men's Trophy along with the Dennis Webber Trophy with the lowest 2nd round in the field with an impressive 74. Terry Christian won the Super Senior Title as he again proves that Seniors are indeed super.

On the Men's side it took 37 holes to decide a winner. John Mosher outlasted first round leader Jacob Myra and was able to win his first Men's Club Championship. Myra showed tremendous grit as he rolled in a long birdie putt on 18 to cap off an impressive even par 35 on the windy back nine to force the playoff. Mosher started the day just two back, but his steady consistent play was enough to put him in position on the back nine to claim the title.

Congrats to all those who participated, and many thanks go out to the Maintenance, Food & Beverage and Pro Shop teams for all their hard work and help over the weekend. Special thanks to Match Chairperson David Harvey and his hard working team of volunteers who made the event run very smooth.

The hole by hole scores for both days along with the divisional prize breakdowns are provided separately.

Thanks everyone!
